Hi Shad and Kris,

This is Bud Robertson. It took me a few days to gather and organize the Stream TV assets in my possession or under my control. Here is a summary:

- UHaul storage locker #2309 (10x5-foot) located at: 18160 Parthenia St, Northridge, CA 91325. Phone: (818) 993-7470. Rent was due November 26 so there are late fees and possibly lien fees by now. I have the card key for the building and the locker key in my possession. I used to go to the facility a lot when I was living in Los Angeles and doing regular demos before moving to the Netherlands. Zach Lehman was the primary custodian during the past 2 years before he left Stream TV so I really don't have a good idea of what remains there. I have visited only a few times in the past 3 years and only once since I moved to Nevada a year ago. I cannot give you an inventory of what is stored there other than a general comment of what I remember seeing. Note: this is in my personal name, so if you do not want to take possession and make payment, I will notify UHaul that the locker is being abandoned, I will clear the balance and have them throw out the contents so there are no new storage fees accruing against me. I now live 5 hours away and have no intention or returning to Los Angeles any time soon. Here's what I remember seeing when I was there last:
 - 4K 65" inventory
 - flight cases
 - several demo units - 50" and possibly 65"
 - Other odds and ends
- In my possession is a 2x5x8-foot storage rack with a range of items. If you wish to collect these, you'll need to send a truck with a moving crew and boxes to Henderson, Nevada. I have given you the size of my shelving unit so you know how much space to plan for. Attached are photos of the 5 shelves so you can see what I have in my office:
 - Several desktop PC units with Ultra-D player software for demos
 - 2 x laptops with Ultra-D player software for demos
 - 2 x 27" Ultra-D demo displays
 - 5.5" Ultra-D demo display
 - 3 x MyRiad-60 render boards
 - 5 x NanoPi Android boards
 - TiVo Roamio console
 - Iadea CMS box
 - Speaker bars, audio receiver, and surround sound audio
 - Demo discs - movies and games
 - PS3 game system & Misc game controllers
 - Cables and switches for video wall
 - European power strips
 - Misc cables of all kinds
 - Misc Keyboards and mice
 - Misc remote controls
- Also in my possession is the big server PC for the video wall. The box it is in measures 3x2x2-feet.
- Also in my possession is a Dell laptop for basic office work.
- Also in my possession is a Dell desktop PC brand new (intended for demo use but never set up)

As you may know, I am owed 60% of one paycheck in back pay plus $26K in unreimbursed expenses. Please advise your plans for settling outstanding employee debt and retrieval of assets. I'll happy to get to get the space back in my office.

Regarding passwords, obviously the items controlled by SeeCubic BV are already taken care of. There are only a couple other accounts of interest, and some of them are pretty old and may not be currently active, but here are the ones that seem relevant:

Bud,

Thank you for putting all of this together. We will be back shortly with arrangements to take control of those assets we wish to retain.

On the matter of the amounts owed to you, those are owed to you by StreamTV Networks, Inc., and are not being assumed by SeeCubic, Inc. under the Omnibus Agreement. As you have seen from the order, the assets now belong to SeeCubic Inc., which does not owe you those amounts, so there is no right of offset. However, those amounts are still due and payable to you from StreamTV Networks, Inc., and you are not precluded under the Preliminary Injunction from pursuing those claims against StreamTV Networks, Inc.

Thanks much,

Shad

Bud, Duncan alluded that you may have the video wall frame and displays in the U-Haul in LA as well. Can you confirm this? Also, U-Haul will require the locker be paid up to date before they allow any transfer of ownership to take place. You are saying the locker is past due as of 11/26/20. Do you have the latest invoice from U-Haul you can send me or Franklin?

I am working with Shad on the below and will be getting back to you in the near future to coordinate.

Leo

Hi Leo,

Regarding Uhaul, they only send email notices, not actual invoices, and I don't have access to my email box any more. But I provided the address, phone number and locker number so I'm sure that's enough info to settle the account. The cost is $124.95 per month and the last notice I remember getting was an added $20 late fee. Based on history, there might also be a $50 lien fee at this point too. I don't know the exact status.

Regarding the video wall, good news and bad news. Your email reminded me that 10 x 50" displays for the wall are, in fact, here in Las Vegas. They had been stored at a Public Storage locker along with a lot of CES signage, etc. After a couple years of high storage costs, I cleaned out that locker earlier this year. I had never been there and found it to be mostly full of junk - old pedestals that were banged up, signage from shows many years ago, etc., and one pallet of 4K 65" inventory that eventually became part of the 210-unit sale to 3D Bob (BBack, Inc.). One of those 5 screens went to Sara to replace the content creation screen she was using which had a failing BLU. There were 5 pallets of 50" screens (2 each) for the video wall - 9 screens plus 1 spare. As I did not have storage in Las Vegas, I asked 3D Bob if he would store them as a favor. He currently has them in his Las Vegas warehouse but they are still the property of Stream TV. Bob knows that so you should be able to retrieve those screens from him no problem. In consideration of providing that storage, I gave Bob the 6 or 8 wooden pedestals so he could use them for the showroom his colleagues were opening for the 3D fish tanks a few months ago.

Now the bad news. I was surprised to see that the frame for the video wall was not in the Las Vegas locker. I found the computer server (listed in my email to Shad), a box of ethernet cables and switch boxes, a box of EU power strips, and the 10 screens. No metal frame or stand and no Zotac mini-PC's that mounted on the back to drive each screen (I think the Zotacs had been sent back to Eindhoven since they were getting hard to find).

Other than one trip many years ago for a trade show in Hollywood during the peak of 3D hype, the video wall was never in Los Angeles. I think after that it went to LV for CES and stayed there. A second wall went to NJ and was with Inception Digital if I remember correctly, but you'll know those details better than I do.

That's all I know. Give 3D Bob a call...

Bud

Hi Bud,

I have made attempts to call you discuss the matter of returning the assets held in your custody and those that in their custody of Sara Robertson in the Nevada area but to no avail which is why I am emailing you, as this is a time-sensitive matter. All the necessary arrangements through a 3rd party service firm have been setup by SeeCubic, Inc. to the pickup these assets this week. Please indicate a day or date this week in which this party can pick-up of these assets. Once you have given a date, I will provide you the name of the service firm performing the pickup, the time within that day which they will arrive and a copy of the list of assets they will be collecting. Thank you for your time and I look forward to hearing from you.

Hi Franklin,

I heard your voicemail earlier and am just now seeing this email. I'm not a Google person and am only checking this inbox about once a day. I don't have plans to go to my office until the end of the week, so a pickup on Friday should be okay (nobody at SeeCubic has contacted me in more than 5 weeks, so I guess it's not that time sensitive). Hopefully your third-party service can give me a reasonable window so I'm not waiting around all day. As you can see from the photo inventory I sent in December, most items are loose, so please make sure your moving company brings the necessary boxes and packing materials. Also, my office is at the end of a very long hallway, so they should bring carts or dollies.

I can't speak for Sara's availability for a pickup of the items in her possession, so please coordinate directly with her. We may be in the same city but we're about half an hour distant. Thanks.

As I said, I have heard nothing from your team since before the holidays. Have you paid the Los Angeles U-Haul and transferred that locker out of my name?

Regards,

Bud

Hi Shad and Kris,

This is Bud Robertson. It took me a few days to gather and organize the Stream TV assets in my possession or under my control. Here is a summary:

- UHaul storage locker #2309 (10x5-foot) located at: 18160 Parthenia St, Northridge, CA 91325. Phone: (818) 993-7470. Rent was due November 26 so there are late fees and possibly lien fees by now. I have the card key for the building and the locker key in my possession. I used to go to the facility a lot when I was living in Los Angeles and doing regular demos before moving to the Netherlands. Zach Lehman was the primary custodian during the past 2 years before he left Stream TV so I really don't have a good idea of what remains there. I have visited only a few times in the past 3 years and only once since I moved to Nevada a year ago. I cannot give you an inventory of what is stored there other than a general comment of what I remember seeing. Note: this is in my personal name, so if you do not want to take possession and make payment, I will notify UHaul that the locker is being abandoned, I will clear the balance and have them throw out the contents so there are no new storage fees accruing against me. I now live 5 hours away and have no intention or returning to Los Angeles any time soon. Here's what I remember seeing when I was there last:
 - 4K 65" inventory
 - flight cases
 - several demo units - 50" and possibly 65"
 - Other odds and ends
- In my possession is a 2x5x8-foot storage rack with a range of items. If you wish to collect these, you'll need to send a truck with a moving crew and boxes to Henderson, Nevada. I have given you the size of my shelving unit so you know how much space to plan for. Attached are photos of the 5 shelves so you can see what I have in my office:
 - Several desktop PC units with Ultra-D player software for demos Take
 - 2 x laptops with Ultra-D player software for demos Take
 - 2 x 27" Ultra-D demo displays Take
 - 5.5" Ultra-D demo display Take
 - 3 x Myriad-60 render boards Take
 - 5 x NanoPi Android boards Take

Regarding passwords, obviously the items controlled by SeeCubic BV are already taken care of. There are only a couple other accounts of interest, and some of them are pretty old and may not be currently active, but here are the ones that seem relevant:
